Heat Stroke

With the hot summer upon us, we thought it might be a good thing to refresh ourselves with the symptoms of heat stroke for our pets.

What to look for:

- ◆ Rapid panting
- ◆ Bright Red Tongue
- ◆ Red or pale gums
- ◆ Thick, sticky saliva
- ◆ Weakness, dizziness
- ◆ Vomiting and/or diarrhea

What to do:

If you suspect heat stroke, take your dog's temperature with a rectal thermometer. A dog's normal body temperature is about 100 to 103 degrees. Anything above normal could be cause for concern and you should call your veterinarian.

Heat stroke is a medical emergency and should be treated immediately. Soak your dog with lukewarm (never cold) water and cover it with water-soaked towels on the way to the vets.

Cooling the body too quickly can be extremely harmful, so do not use ice to cool the pet.

Help prevent heat stroke:

- ◆ NEVER leave your dog unattended in a vehicle, even for a short time.
- ◆ Make sure your dog always has access to shade and clean, fresh water.
- ◆ Limit your dog's exercise on hot, humid days.
- ◆ Indoors, use air-conditioning, fans, tile floors, or a cooling mat to keep your dog comfortable.

DISCOUNTS—DISCOUNTS

We have been given the following list of places that are “supposed” to give discounts to seniors. We say supposedly because we have found that not all do in our area. For example, Publix in Manatee County does not have the 15% off every Wednesday (or any other day) however they did know of other states that did honor such a discount.

The main thing we have learned is that you must ASK about the discounts and that they are not automatic!!!
